Before worship

Freedom is something we in Australia often take for granted. On Remembrance Day and Anzac Day our nation pauses to reflect on what our freedom has cost in terms of human life, scarred and sacrificed in war. Lest we forget.

Everything we have on earth has a price tag but freedom costs more than most. Yet even this, which is worth dying for, may only be a temporary blessing. Therefore, it is wise to remember the One who died to secure eternal freedom.

If the human sacrifice of war has historical benefits for us, how much more so the sacrifice of Christ who died, once and for all, - for all people, for all time. The Book of Hebrews tells us that Christ died to remove sin by His own sacrifice and when He comes again, it will not be to deal with sin, but to bring salvation to all who are eagerly waiting for Him. And that salvation involves eternal freedom.

Our lost soldiers are justified in Christ along with us and though they gave their earthly lives, Christ has offered His that they may have eternal life. And while we may never be called upon to sacrifice our earthly lives yet we can make small and significant sacrifices for others in our daily lives, we too are in that number that Christ died for and our earthly suffering will be washed away in the eternal freedom that is God's gift to us all, in Christ.

Thank You Lord that all in this world are included in the, Once and for all sacrifice of Christ. Thank You for the sacrifices people make for the good of others but thank You mostly for the sacrifice You made in giving up Your Son to save us. Amen.

Speak on his latest book "MARTIN LUTHER – A WILD BOAR IN THE LORD'S VINEYARD"
This book tells the story of one of the most eventful and extraordinary lives of the late medieval period. It also offers the modern reader a concise and accessible account of his remarkable life. It explores his passionate and fiery character. Whether you love or hate Luther, you will be left with little doubt that his life and thoughts have shaped the world in which we live – and in more ways than you may have thought.

The book was short-listed for this year's Christian book of the year awards.
